the kahuzi biega national park pnkb in the democratic republic of the congo presents an existential threat to the indigenous batwa people for millennia batwa occupied the forests surrounding mount kahuzi and mount biega utilizing traditional ecological knowledge and sustainable practices to foster one of the most biodiverse places on the planet the creation of the pnkb in the 1970s forced batwa from their ancestral lands rendering them deeply impoverished landless dependent and culturally disconnected when they seek to return home and access their lands and resources they are subjected to extreme violence by park authorities who treat them as trespassers poachers and enemies of conservation this report situates the serious human rights violations suffered by batwa in the pnkb within the broader global phenomenon of fortress conservation and analyses the respective roles and accountability of the park s core international partners ongoing violence against batwa in the pnkb is a stark reminder of the immense human and environmental costs associated with pursuing conservation policies that prevent indigenous peoples from owning governing accessing and benefiting from their territories and resources these policies are bolstered by donors global ngos and international organizations which enable and tacitly uphold a violent and anti indigenous status quo in the pnkb and other protected areas donors conservation organizations and other international partners of the pnkb have failed to adequately ensure that their support did not contribute to human rights violations committed against batwa these international partners had explicit knowledge of unresolved human rights abuses committed by ecoguards as well as threats of imminent violence against batwa communities living inside the park yet they continued to equip fund and train ecoguards and actively promoted the increasing militarization of the pnkb this militarization has resulted in overly aggressive policing and military style actions by ecoguards often jointly with the congolese army who explicitly target criminalize and brutalize batwa at the same time the park consistently fails to meet environmental expectations and objectives thus the pnkb represents a clear case of how fortress conservation fails both people and the environment regrettably it is not an isolated example of flawed conservation policy instead it is indicative of the institutional shortcomings and systemic failures inherent in the dominant ways in which conservation is pursued by states and promoted by international conservation actors in the congo basin and in other parts of the world le parc national de kahuzi biega pnkb en république démocratique du congo présente une menace existentielle pour le peuple indigène batwa pendant des millénaires les batwa ont occupé les forêts entourant le mont kahuzi et le mont biega utilisant les connaissances écologiques traditionnelles et les pratiques durables pour favoriser l'un des endroits les plus riches en biodiversité de la planète la création du pnkb dans les années 1970 a forcé les batwa à quitter leurs terres ancestrales les rendant profondément appauvris sans terre dépendants et culturellement déconnectés lorsqu'ils cherchent à rentrer chez eux et à accéder à leurs terres et à leurs ressources ils sont soumis à une violence extrême de la part des autorités du parc qui les traitent comme des intrus des braconniers et des ennemis de la conservation ce rapport situe les graves violations des droits humains subies par les batwa dans le pnkb dans le cadre du phénomène mondial plus large de la conservation des forteresses et analyse les rôles respectifs et la responsabilité des principaux partenaires internationaux du parc la violence continue contre les batwa dans le pnkb est un rappel brutal des immenses coûts humains et environnementaux associés à la poursuite de politiques de conservation qui empêchent les peuples autochtones de posséder gouverner accéder et bénéficier de leurs territoires et ressources ces politiques sont soutenues par des donateurs des ong mondiales et des organisations internationales qui permettent et maintiennent tacitement un statu quo violent et anti indigène dans le pnkb et d autres aires protégées les bailleurs de fonds les organisations de conservation et les autres partenaires internationaux du pnkb n ont pas suffisamment assuré que leur soutien ne contribuait pas aux violations des droits humains commises contre les batwa ces partenaires internationaux avaient une connaissance explicite des violations non résolues des droits de l homme commises par les écogardes ainsi que des menaces de violence imminente contre les communautés batwa vivant à l intérieur du parc pourtant ils ont continué à équiper financer et former des écogardes et ont activement encouragé la militarisation croissante du pnkb cette militarisation a entraîné des actions policières et militaires trop agressives de la part des écogardes souvent conjointement avec l armée congolaise qui ciblent criminalisent et brutalisent explicitement les batwa dans le même temps le parc échoue systématiquement à répondre aux attentes et aux objectifs environnementaux ainsi le pnkb représente un exemple clair de la façon dont la conservation des forteresses échoue à la fois pour les personnes et pour l environnement malheureusement ce n est pas un exemple isolé de politique de conservation défectueuse au lieu de cela il est révélateur des lacunes institutionnelles et des échecs systémiques inhérents aux manières dominantes dont la conservation est poursuivie par les États et promue par les acteurs internationaux de la conservation dans le bassin du congo et dans d autres parties du monde
